Data Collection (general or specific stats regarding results)

When analyzing the data collected for the past year via the key assessment that cover standard 1, the vast majority of students meet or exceed each of the four key competencies. Students have the opportunity to learn about and apply knowledge regarding child development and learning throughout each CD course. 100% of students either met or exceeded the requirements for each key competency of Standard 1 during the Fall 2023-Winter 2024 academic year.

What We Learned (areas for improvements, strengths, etc.)

Standard 1: Knowing about Child Development and Learning forms the foundation of our program. As such, it is not surprising that 100% of students met or exceeded these standards when reviewing the standard 1 assessment data. We will continue to seek ways to introduce, practice and reinforce these concepts throughout the coursework.

Use of Data to Improve Student Success

At this time, there is not anything that appears amiss with our data in terms of needs for improvement.
